INTRODUCTION

This prestigious farmhouse is located in an excellent semi-hilly position, a short distance from Cortona, which offers a unique panoramic view of the Valdichiana: from Lake Trasimeno to Mount Amiata.

It is an historical residence dating back to 1500 AD, composed by a large main building and annexes that make up a total of almost 1400 m2 to be restored.

The main structure, built in the 15th century and belonging to the Marquisate of Petrela, whose coat of arms is still visible above the main entrance, is made up of three floors and has a perfectly symmetrical facade, underlined by an orthogonal flight of stairs. The openings on the ground floor and first floor are finely decorated with stone coverings, while the ground floor is characterized by a harmonious succession of cross vaults.

Two detached annexes, one adjacent and the other in front of the main build, complete the structure and provide more surface to be restored and to create an extraordinary residence both for high-level hospitality businesses or as a luxury residence.

The property is surrounded by a private court of approximately 2500 m2, and vast agricultural land with 680 olive trees and 4 artesian wells for water supply.

For its historical background, the Property is also mentioned in the book "Farmhouses of Valdichiana", a work dedicated to the oldest and most distinctive structures of these areas.
