INTRODUCTION

Palazzo Rosa is an elegant townhouse in the centro storico of Panicale, one of Umbria's oldest and prettiest small towns whose medieval streets curl in a snail-shell pattern around its hilltop setting.

The property spans three floors and is crowned by a spectacular rooftop terrace that offers breath-taking views of the surrounding landscape and is large enough to be used for dining, entertaining and relaxing. This is complemented by a brick-vaulted lower-ground floor, accessed from a pretty side alley at the rear of the property.

The main entrance room to the palazzo has a vaulted ceiling and stunning Liberty-style frescoes that add unique and refined character to the space. The house's interior layout is exceptionally well-planned, with a logical division of rooms that ensures a seamless flow and optimal use of space throughout.

Palazzo Rosa dates from around 1925. It was restored in 2003 and further work was carried out in 2016.

LAYOUT

BEDROOMS

There are four spacious bedrooms, including an en-suite double on the ground floor, and three doubles on the second floor.

BATHROOMS

There are four bathrooms in total, as well as a guest loo on the first floor. One of the two bathrooms on the second floor has incredible views from the bath. The other three bathrooms have showers.

KITCHEN

There is a large, eat-in kitchen that is dual aspect and includes a big crittall window, on the first floor, opposite the open-plan dining and sitting room.

LIVINGROOM

The open-plan dining and sitting room spans the width of the house and is dual aspect with a window in each corner, creating a wonderfully light-filled room. There is a large reception room on the lower-ground floor that leads to the outside courtyard and a private entrance from an alley at the back of the house. Multi-purpose, it is big enough to use as an exhibition space.

OTHER ROOMS

There is a small technical room on the ground floor.

FACILITIES

OUTSIDE

The property has a large fenced, tiled roof terrace with panoramic views across the town, including of the bell towers, to the rolling hills beyond. There's enough space for dining, entertaining and relaxing. At street level there is a small, gated courtyard with space to park one car.

TECHNICAL

The property is connected to mains electricity, water, gas and sewage. The property is heated by radiators and the water by a boiler.
